06) Read the following paragraph and answer the question.

What do we know about the moon? First of all, if we compare the moon with the earth, we find that the moon is much smaller. It is about one-quarter the size of the earth.

When we look at the moon through a telescope, we can see lines and circles. People used to say that there was a rabbit in the moon! There is no rabbit on the moon. The lines and circles are mountains, valleys and deep holes. There are also plains where the ground is quite flat.

Days and nights on the moon are very long. One day on the moon is as long as two weeks on the earth. One night is also as long as two weeks on the earth. In the day time the moon is very hot 120°C . The nights are very cold: -156°C . This is very cold indeed. A man on the moon would quickly freeze to death in night-time if he did not wear special clothes. In the daytime it would be too hot to live without special clothes.

There is another surprising thing. On the moon things are not as heavy as they are on the earth. Something that weights one kilogram on earth would weight only about 166 grams on the moon.

1) Write "T" for true sentences and "F" for false sentences.

- a) The earth is bigger than the moon. ☐
- b) The day time and night time may pass so fast on moon. ☐
- c) You must wear special protective clothes on moon. ☐
